Women in Aviation International (India Chapter) and Lockheed Martin India advance Stem Education

ANI | Updated: Jun 10, 2020 19:02 IST

New Delhi [India], June 10 (ANI/NewsVoir): Women in Aviation International (WAI), India Chapter, and Lockheed Martin India today held a virtual event to advance STEM education in middle and high school students.

With the vision to encourage young children to take up Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) subjects and explore career opportunities in related industries, WAI India Chapter is a registered NGO that works to create awareness about opportunities in the aviation and aerospace sectors.

The virtual event is part of Lockheed Martin's commitment to providing ongoing support and engagement aimed at developing the talent of tomorrow. This initiative aligns with the 'Skill India' initiative of the Government.

As part of the program, WAI (India Chapter) invited students from Delhi and NCR based schools as attendees. The event began with Noopurr R Chablani, Secretary, WAI, India Chapter welcoming all participants and talking about the agenda of the event. This was followed by insights from Capt. Shweta Singh, Deputy Chief Flight Operations Inspector, DGCA.
